

Prof. Glen Gole

MBBS MD (NSW) FRANZCO FRACS FRCOphth

Professor Gole is a paediatric ophthalmologist specialising in childhood and adult strabismus.

He completed his medical degree in New South Wales and trained in Ophthalmology under Professor Fred Hollows at The Prince of Wales Hospital in Sydney.

He then went on to complete a paediatric ophthalmology fellowship at the University of Iowa in 1984.

Professor Gole is the Director of the Ophthalmology Department at Lady Cilento Children's Hospital and Professor of Ophthalmology in the Discipline of Paediatrics and Child Health at the University of Queensland.

His research interests include retinopathy of prematurity, strabismus surgery and paediatric low vision. Professor Gole has published over 100 papers and several book chapters.

Professor Gole consults from Cura Ophthalmology Specialists every Monday.